Re: Fiduciary Rule: Extension of Applicability Date; RIN 1210-AB79

Dear Sir or Madam:

The Independent Community Bankers of America (ICBA)\(^1\) wishes to express its support for a proposal by the Department of Labor (DOL) to delay for 60 days the applicability date of the final fiduciary rule. The final rule, entitled Definition of the Term “Fiduciary;” Conflict of Interest Rule—Retirement Investment Advice, was published in the Federal Register on April 8, 2016 and has an applicability date of April 10, 2017. By Memorandum dated February 3, 2017, the President directed the DOL to conduct an examination of the final rule to determine whether the rule may adversely affect the ability of Americans to gain access to retirement information and financial advice. As part of this examination, DOL was directed to prepare an updated economic and legal analysis concerning the likely impact of the final rule.

ICBA believes that the final rule harms investors because it would reduce Americans’ access to certain retirement savings offerings. Therefore, we support a delay in the applicability date of the final rule to give the DOL the necessary time to make that conclusion. If that conclusion is reached, then accordance to the President’s memorandum, the final rule needs to be rescinded or revised.

If the final rule was not extended, the DOL would not have sufficient time to consider the full economic impact of the rule. Furthermore, we do not believe that a 60-day extension would unnecessarily disrupt the marketplace and adversely impact retirement investors and advisers.

ICBA appreciates the opportunity to comment on the DOL’s fiduciary rule. If you have any questions or would like additional information, please do not hesitate to contact me by email at Chris.Cole@icba.org.
